

Meat, Culinary and Snack Ingredients

FSL's Meat, Culinary and Snack Ingredients Unit extends the latest global trends and technological developments in the meat, culinary and snack industries to its customers.

Combined with the expertise of our highly reputed principals, we work in close collaboration with our customers to reduce their manufacturing costs and to optimize their existing processes and recipes. We also add value by developing new products for our customers with our in-house application lab and technical specialists who can conduct small scale trials, troubleshoot and participate in raw material testing while also providing in-house training to our customers.

Our extensive range of functional ingredients is selected from the world's finest suppliers and meets all of our customers' needs in terms of taste, texture, appearance, shelf life and pricing.
